

Startling Discovery.

The discovery by the inhabitants of a locality hitherto unvisited by the pestilential scourge of fever and ague, that it exists in their very midst, is decidedly startling. Such discoveries are made at every season, in every part of the Union. Consequently, when it is ascertained, as it invariably is at such times, through the valuable experience of some one who has been benefited and cured, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a thoroughly efficacious eradicator of the malarial poison, and a means of fortifying the system against it, a feeling of more security and tranquillity reigns throughout the whole neighborhood. Besides the febrile forms of malarial disease, dumb ague and ague cake are removed by the potent action of the Bitters, to which science also gives its sanction as a remedy for rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, debility, kidney troubles, and all diseases impairing the organs of digestion and assimilation.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; am now on my third bottle, and am able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made." Jesse Middleton, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died from lung troubles. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottle free at Hodgkinson & Co's. drug store.

Unnecessary Suffering. Probably as many misery comes from habitual constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure, for the reason none like to take the medicines usually prescribed. HAMBURG PILLS were prepared to obviate this difficulty, and they will be found pleasant to the taste of women and children. 25 cents. At all druggists. J. J. Mack & Co., proprietors.

Changing.

No better proof can be given of the passing away of the old order of things, so far as range stock raising is concerned, in many of the Western Territories, than is contained in the following article from the Montana Live Stock Journal:

The most discerning among the cattlemen in the Territory recognize the fact that cattle raising cannot longer be pursued under the old system of large herds and unlimited range with the same certainty of profit that existed some years ago. The causes which are producing this changed condition in the business are found in overstocked ranges, the heavy losses occasioned by deep snows, and the possibly frequent recurrence of such disastrous seasons. It is within the range of possibilities that another such Winter as the last may not be experienced for years, but the prudent stockman who shapes his business in the direct line of his interest will take into account the fact that a hard Winter is liable to drop down upon him any year, and that in view of the fact the better plan is to be prepared for the worst.

This preparation will involve the abandonment of the large, uncared for herd system, by which every stockman's cattle run with every other stockman's cattle over an area of range where it is impossible to care for them or even to see them only at round-ups. The abandonment of this system would, of course, lead to a radical revolution in cattle raising in Montana. Cattle would be held in smaller herds and be kept within convenient distance of feed during the Winter months. More men would have to be employed in the business and consequently the expense account would be correspondingly greater.

The question then occurs: Will it pay to raise stock upon this plan? A very ready answer is found in the fact that cattle raising is made profitable in many of the States where they are fed six months in the year and sometimes longer. And it should be understood that it does not follow that cattle must be fed because the owner is prepared to feed them. There will doubtless be many Winters in Montana when stock will need no other feed than may be found in the rich, cured grasses on the range. We are simply speaking of the necessity of being prepared to feed stock, not of the necessity of feeding every Winter. One hard Winter may destroy the profits of years of unremitting labor, while a month or two spent in preparing for it may avert the loss. That is the whole thing in a nutshell.

There is one fact, however, that cannot be overlooked, and that is stockmen cannot longer safely adhere to the old system of stock raising in Montana. Should they continue if they will be "left in the cold" when they least expect it, and the accumulation of years of toil be swept away with the blasts of a single snow storm.

Notice

IS hereby given that I will, on and after the first day of June, 1888, deliver my own m'k, collect my own bills, and have no partner in the business.

THE people of the Eastern States, which border on the provinces, have great hopes for the success of the movement for commercial union with Canada for the reason that the farmers of that country are in favor of it. The manufacturing class who hope to profit by a system of exclusion and non-intercourse are largely in the minority. In the United States the protectionists, as a body, will not oppose it. There is nothing the "infant industries" now so badly need as an extension of their markets. The home market is insufficient to keep the mills running. Manufacturers have been driven to the expedient of curtailing production by working short time, of arranging combinations to break down weak competitors, of sending surplus stock to foreign markets to be sold for what they would fetch, and to various other devices for relieving the glut of unsalable products. Under any plan for commercial union the tariffs of the Dominion and of the United States must be made to harmonize; then there would be a new outlet for our protected manufactures. The farmers of the United States and the farmers of Canada are not to any great extent competitors. The prices of their staples are regulated by the prices ruling in foreign markets, thus putting rivalry out of the question. To merchants and traders in the United States the prospect of extended trade will be universally welcome. The general and large interests of both countries ought to sway the course of negotiation. If existing disputes could be settled by reciprocal trade with reciprocal advantage it would be folly not to bring it about as soon as possible.

THE Eureka Sentinel thinks California is not a doubtful State in the next campaign. It says: In making Presidential figures for this Fall, some Eastern Democratic journals are in the habit of classing California as a doubtful State. There is nothing doubtful about California. To our mind it is as certain to go Republican as election day arrives. No matter what the Republican candidate may be. It is to-day a reliable Republican State for any man that party may put up. Of course it would be stronger for Blaine than any other Republican candidate, but it will go strong enough for any Republican candidate. Blaine is much stronger in all of the Pacific Coast States than he is East. But it will not do to claim the Golden State as likely to vote for Mr. Cleveland in any event, whether the Republican candidate be the Plumed Knight or some one else. It will not do to ignore the fact that some 20,000 or 30,000 men will vote in that State this Fall who have never voted before. Most of these new settlers came from Republican States in the East, and it is quite likely that they have brought their politics along with them. If they have, it means nothing less than a sweeping triumph beyond the Sierras at the coming election. California in no sense a doubtful State. The attitude of Senators Stanford and Stewart, in voting for the confirmation of Lamar as a Justice of the Supreme Court, looks like railroad might favor Mr. Cleveland, but if they should they could not carry the State for him. The one-lunged contingent will be found too numerous to be overcome by any sort of pressure.

THE New York Graphic wants the Government to engineer the irrigation of the great arid regions of the continent, in concurrence with the several State authorities. It truly remarks that the subject opens an opportunity for statesmanship. In many sections of the Pacific States individual efforts have sufficiently met the necessities of the case, and, where practical, they present the best solution. In Northern California the great mining water-works offer the nucleus of an irrigation system. Private companies are constructing works on a great scale in Arizona, and the newly completed Merced enterprise is a like instance. As population and irrigation increases it may yet become necessary for the State to step in and harmonize conflicting interests, which have already begun to create trouble. The General Government might do a good work by surveying watersheds, largely in Government interests, calculating supply and furnishing data necessary to enable State or private enterprise to work intelligently.

GEORGE W. CASSIDY says, in the Sentinel, that "the attitude of the Chief Executive on silver, the dismantling of our Carson mint, the dismemberment of our revenue district, the remorseless cutting of our mail service, and last and greater than them all, the importation of carpet-baggers to fill our offices, has reduced the party in Nevada to such a pitiable condition that a Democrat can hardly hold his head up and look a man squarely in the face." This is almost as fierce an arraignment of the Democratic party as any Republican could make.

GENERAL W. T. SHERMAN says that he is overwhelmed with letters asking for his autograph and for a lock of his hair. To meet the demand he has had a printed form prepared, which expresses the situation to his correspondents, as follows: "It is impossible for me to comply with all the requests for autographs, and I cannot send any more locks of hair because I have discharged my Secretary, whose hair has entirely disappeared under the constant application of scissors, and the orderly who now serves me is entirely bald."

THE bill permitting the substitution of fine and imprisonment in place of capital punishment for casting away a ship with intent to defraud underwriters, when attended by no loss of life or personal suffering or injury, may have the effect of reaching and punishing cases of willful loss of property only where juries would be unwilling to convict if capital punishment were to follow. The severity of the law sometimes renders it inoperative.

We can furnish you with a suite—the finest in the land or the cheapest to be had. Our trade has demanded that we carry the richest lines, and to-day we are shipping goods to San Francisco, Oakland and other parts of the State. INDIAN DEPRIVITY.

A New-Born Babe Killed and Buried With Its Mother.

The Carson Appeal publishes the following horrible tale: "A few days the negro squaw, 'Topsy,' gave birth to a child near the Tahoe lumber yard. Her sister was present, and she asked her to build a fire. The sister refused on the ground that during her recent confinement no one had bothered to build fires for her. The sick woman lying on the ground in a wickup, then called for water, saying she wanted it for cold. She was in a high fever, and drank such quantities of water that she died that afternoon, her sister standing by and offering no assistance.

Day before yesterday she was buried, and a council was held to decide what to do with the child. The fact that the dead mother was not a full-blooded Indian, but half negro weighed against her. There was no one to take care of the child, and when the mother was buried the Indians choked the child to death, and flung it into the grave on the mother's breast, threw on the dirt and went away without further ceremony. The mother was always in bad odor with the tribe because of her mixed blood and bad character."

A PIUTE PRODIGY.

An interesting letter from a Nevada Indian Boy.

The following letter is the production of a son of Tom King, a Piute now on the Pyramid reservation. The writer has been for the past twenty months a pupil of the Indian school at Grand Junction, Colorado. Considering his advantages, he can be termed a prodigy, as there are but few white children capable of progressing as rapidly as he has in such a short space of time:

GRAND JUNCTION, COLORADO, January 7, 1888.

My Dear father: Mr. Tom King—I am except you are all well and the also Rob Lee family, a Whiskey Ben family too. I am getting along very well, and also rest boys are getting along as well. And the Dr. J. J. Robertson was told me you cut your foot. I am very sorry you cut your foot. I do not feel good this week, because I had sore eyes. And my eyes little better now. And boys just got done cut too. I will try to be good boy. Study hard I can. I want them my brother to be good boys. You make them stay in school. How is anything there? And I am very glad to hear from you that.

Your affectionately son,

Write to me soon. JIM KING.

DASHED TO DEATH.

The Terrible Plunge of a Gold Hill Miner.

Saturday morning Thomas Baker, a miner employed at the Kentucky mine in Gold Hill, was precipitated down the shaft and instantly killed. The Virginia Chronicle, in its account, says: "The cage in ascending was raised a few feet above the surface station. Before it was lowered again on the chairs Baker leaped from the cage deck over the crossbar to the floor. Striking with his feet on the iron switch plate he slipped and swung around, and in scrambling to save himself plunged head-first down the shaft to the sump, falling a distance of 700 feet." When the body was recovered from the sump it was found with the head nearly severed from the trunk, but otherwise not as terribly mangled as was anticipated. It was brought to the surface and removed to the undertaking rooms.

Deceased was a native of the United States, about 35 years of age and unmarried.

An Agricultural Acquisition.

Geo. W. Robison is the latest addition to the agricultural community of Reno. For the past fourteen years he has been ranching in Mason Valley, but recognizing the superior advantages of Washoe county has purchased an eighty-acre farm, about two miles from town, and will devote it to the raising of hay and potatoes, and will also pay considerable attention to the breeding of fine horses, an occupation in which he is an enthusiast.

Public Library Benefit.

An entertainment will shortly be given in Reno for the benefit of the Reno Public Library. Professor Lee Chauvar is the directing spirit in the enterprise, and will be assisted by the best local talent. A program, consisting of choice literary and musical selections, is being prepared, which will be duly announced when completed.

The Carson Indian School.

The bill establishing an Indian school at Carson, and which has been favorably reported upon in Congress, provides that Nevada shall donate up to less than 200 acres of ground for school purpose, and makes an appropriation of $50,000 for the construction of the necessary buildings.

On Tuesday.

On Tuesday we will offer a fine assortment of table linens, towels, napkins, crashe, table covers and napkins to match and all other linen goods at special low prices. You will save money by taking advantage of this great sale.

F. LEVY & BRO.

"It is worth its weight in gold," is a common expression. But, while the value of gold is easily ascertained, the worth of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, as a blood-purifier, never depreciates. It will cleanse a scrofulous system, when everything else fails.

FROM WASHINGTON.

TALKS WITH STEWART AND WOODBURN.

What the Senator and Congressman Have to Say of Matters of Public Interest—Whose, January—Society Etiquette—Mrs. Cleveland a Charming Lady.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 30, 1888.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—Washingtonians are having a full grown Winter this year that nobody need be ashamed of. The mercury, which last Summer climbed a telegraph pole, has gone clean down into the bulb. The thermometer scored five degrees below zero night before last, but "Weather Forecasts" this morning say that a "depression from the Pacific Coast is slowly advancing over the plains, with a promise of considerably milder weather in this section tomorrow." This is welcome news, for the cry of "Whose, January," is heard throughout the East.

One of the great institutions at the National capital is its society. The papers here are full of it, and one to read of the receptions, teas, balls, etc., and of the elegant dresses and jewels worn by the ladies on these occasions would naturally suppose that that is all some people live for. But a complicated question is really agitating these people. It is: "Who shall visit whom?" It has been decided. I believe that the President and his spouse visit no one. But whom shall the Cabinet visit? Whom shall the Senate and the Supreme Court visit in person? "Ah, these are difficult questions to decide, and the National Congress may be appealed for a decision in the matter."

I called on Senator Stewart at his residence this morning and found him hard at work on a Chinese bill. I asked him what the condition of Chinese legislation is, and he answered:

"Several measures have been introduced looking to the exclusion of all Chinese, which I think is the only true remedy, but I fear that such a bill cannot be passed at this session of Congress. I shall introduce a bill in a day or two to remedy some of the existing defects in the existing law. The entry of Chinese on account of previous residence has become a sham and a fraud, and I think a bill can be passed to take effect after a reasonable time—say 90 days—which will prevent any Chinaman entering on account of previous residence. There is another defect in the law. The certificate given to the Chinaman on departure from the United States contains a detailed description of him, so that he can transfer it to another Chinaman of similar description, who can enter upon it. The certificate given should contain such devices as to make counterfeiting difficult. Beyond this it should contain nothing but a number. The number should be collected in the collector's office with a full description of the Chinaman, and this description should be kept from all Chinese. I think it best to leave the certificate and the regulations under which Chinese may enter to the Secretary of the Treasury, so that they can be changed every time a Chinaman invents a new scheme to evade the law. As the law now stands every time a Chinaman leaves the country another Chinaman will come, whether he is the same one or not. Besides this, many will come on forged certificates."

During some conversation that followed allusion was made to the confirmation of Lamar. It was apparent that the Senator, although he did not say much, takes a broad, advanced view of the matter. He denounces those who cry "Solid South," and then combine to generate a feeling calculated to make it solid for them.

While returning to my hotel I called on Congressman Woodburn at his residence on Thirteenth street. I found him affable as usual, but was pained to learn of the serious illness of his son, who is down with typhoid fever. The little sufferer, though, is in a fair way to recover. After talking over Nevada matters with the Congressman I asked him what was going on in the House of Representatives of interest to the sagebrush State. His answer was in effect:

"The principal business of interest to our people going on in the House is an attempt to repeal the Desert Land Act. A bill has been introduced in both the House and Senate to repeal not only the Desert Land Act but also the Timber and Homestead Acts, and it is now in the hands of the two Committees on Public Lands. The Representatives of the Pacific States and the Delegates of the several Territories propose to appear before the committees at an early day and submit their reasons why the Acts should not be repealed. The matter is of great interest to Nevada."

"How about the Carson Mint?"

"My belief is it will not be closed. But I tell you the Director of the Mint, in his recommendations to close it, presented some reasons for so doing that are hard to combat."

"How about tariff reform?"

"It will probably be two or three weeks yet before the tariff bill will be ready for submission to the Ways and Means Committee. But I don't apprehend any serious changes in the present law, outside of the duty on sugar, probably, and an overhauling of the internal revenue."

"From what you have been able to learn, what raw materials produced in Nevada does the Committee on Ways and Means want placed on the free list?"

"Well, borax, soda, salt, wool and lead. Wool is threatened the most. The intention of the Democrats, I believe, to present a bill reducing tariff taxes by from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000. I guess they will come down a cipher or two before they get through."

Believing that the Congressman was anxious concerning his son, I refrained from questioning him further and took my departure.

Together with some friends, I had the pleasure of attending a public reception at the White House the other evening and shaking hands with President Cleveland and his beautiful wife. I say "beautiful," for she is all that newspapers have pronounced her. Everybody who has met her appears to be in love with her. As yet she has not done a single act to cause criticism. One thing appears to me quite certain, and that is she has made more friends for her husband than he has for himself.

The political situation in the New York Democratic camp waxeth warm. Hill's friends are becoming so zealous in his behalf for the Presidency as to threaten a split in the party. Should anything of the kind occur Hill's friends will conduct him to the front as an applicant for the privilege of warming the Presidential seat next March.

F. B. MERRILL.

Fashion's Slave.

The Carson Appeal has the following to say of the troupe which will appear at the Nevada Theater this evening: "The Nellie Boyd troupe gave 'Fashion's Slave' last evening to a good audience. The piece was splendidly presented and those who attended enjoyed the performance."

Seats can be secured at Davis' cigar store, Commercial Row.

A Stab in the Dark.

Sometimes falls of its murderous intent. The insidious and dastardly attacks made upon the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters by persons who seek to palm off cheap and fiery tonics as identical with it, or "the same thing under another name," or "equally as good," in most instances react disastrously upon the unprincipled traders upon popular credulity who attempt them, converting their speculations into ruinous failures. The Bitters is a pure, wholesome and thorough medicine, adapted to the total cure and prevention of fever and ague, bilious remittent, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, debility, nervousness and kidney troubles. Its every ingredient, unlike those to the limitations of it, is of an ascertained standard of excellence, and while they by reason of their fiery properties, act injuriously upon the brain and nervous system, of both those organs it is a sedative and invigorant. Refuse all these harmful imitations.

The Latest and Greatest Discovery.

Dr. J. DePrati's Hamburg Figs.—A crystallized fruit cathartic. A discovery of the greatest interest to the medical profession. A boon to every household. A most delicious laxative or purgative, prepared from fruits and vegetables. So perfectly harmless that they may be administered with entire safety to an infant. So efficacious to adults that a single dose will prove their value, and so elegant a preparation that it needs only to be presented to the public to become a necessity in every household throughout the land. For liver complaints, habitual constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, and all cases of biliousness. To travelers by sea and land they will be found invaluable; they are positively unfailing in their action, and this is the only medicine ever offered to the public that is acceptable to the taste, and so pleasant that children will eat the figs as eagerly as candy. For sale by every druggist throughout the world. Price 25 cents a box. J. J. Mack & Co., prop'rs, 9 and 11 Front St., San Francisco, Cal.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Munday, Esq., County Attorney, Clay County, Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. I am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life." Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Kentucky, adds a like testimony, saying: "He positively believes he would have died had it not been for Electric Bitters."

This great remedy will ward off as well as cure all Malaria, Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequalled. Price 50 cents and $1, at Hodgkinson & Co's.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all throat, lung and chest affections. Trial bottles free at Hodgkinson & Co's drug store. Large bottles $1.

Terrible Pains.

Dr. Flint's Heart Remedy banishes sick headaches, and will prevent the return of this most terrible of pains, if taken when the warning symptoms give notice of the recurrence of an attack. At druggists, $1.50. Descriptive treatise with each bottle; or address J. J. Mack & Co., San Francisco.

REAL ESTATE.
PREBLE & YOUNG,
Real Estate Agents,
Country and City Properties in Nevada and California.
For Sale.

$30,000. Mrs. Howard offers her ranch for sale. The ranch is on the Virginia road, the most beautiful of all the country roads in Nevada. It is located eight miles from Reno and is a fertile agricultural section. The ranch consists of about 800 acres and a valuable water right. The ranch has long had the reputation of being one of the most productive of its size of all the ranches in the Truckee Meadows. This year it has produced 800 tons of hay, pasture for 200 head of stock, vegetables and other products to the value of $10,000. By the expenditure of a few hundred dollars the ranch could be made to be even much more productive than it is at present. The soil is admirably adapted to the raising of alfalfa, stock and vegetables. It has an excellent house, barn and other buildings, a good orchard and other improvements. Price, $30,000; cash and balance in five equal annual installments. Interest at 8 per cent. per annum.

$13,650. A. Banta's ranch located about five miles south-east of Reno is offered for sale. It consists of 45 acres, which will be sold at $300 per acre, or for $13,650 and on easy terms of payment. There is on the place a good house of eight rooms, two barns and other buildings. The place has plenty of fine irrigating water and as many as fifty springs of excellent drinking water. The ranch yielded this year 30 tons of hay and pasture valued at not less than $1300. The total valuation of this year's yield is not less than $3,000, and some one year's yield has amounted to as much as $5,000. As the ranch consists chiefly of pasture and meadow land, the expense of running the place is exceedingly small. The ranch is especially desirable as a stock ranch and for this purpose would yield a handsome profit on the amount invested.

FOR SALE. Lots 10, 11, and 12, in Block 4, Marsh's Addition, south side of river, very desirable location. House of two rooms (hard finished) and shower bath; cleared; size, each 50 by 140. A bargain.

$300. Lot 50x175 feet, on the Virginia road, short distance from court house; a very desirable location, and the best bargain in Reno for the price. Perfect title; ditch flows through the property.

80 ACRES OF LAND under improvement; good buildings and fence; 70 acres in alfalfa; choice orchard—600 bearing fruit trees; 5,000 nursery trees; good well. Situated 5 miles from the C.P. railroad depot, Reno.

FOR SALE.—Horse and lot: on east side of Virginia street, one door north of fourth street; lot 50 by 140; house of five rooms. A very desirable location.

FOR SALE.—Lot 125.5 ft. by 140 ft., on east side of Virginia street, opposite residence of J. F. Lester. This is a very desirable piece of property.

40 ACRES OF LAND; 28 acres in alfalfa; 1200 fruit trees, all under fence. Situated 5 miles from railroad depot, Reno. Rotted 1st, beautifully situated for residence.

560 ACRES; 100 acres enclosed by a fine cultivation; balance in alfalfa—good for pasture. Will cut 250 tons alfalfa this year. Two acres of young and bearing orchard; good seed land.

Perfect Title to 50 inches of Water.
New two-story house of three rooms; hard-finished; good barn. Situated 3 1/2 miles from Reno.
Price, $5,000—$2,000 down, balance on time at reasonable interest.

3,000 ACRES under substantial fence. ABUNDANCE OF WATER FOR IRRIGATION.
800 acres in wheat, barley and alfalfa. Controls an immense outside range for cattle or sheep.

In Brief, and to the Point.
Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.
The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.
Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cooking, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.
But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.
Remember: No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents. (Sow)

Sensible Training of Farm Teams.

About every owner of a horse has some idea or particular notion of just how a horse should be broken to work, and it would be hard to meet with one who did not think himself amply qualified to handle his horse in the right way. The majority of horse owners consider a horse broken when he is once subject to line and bridle, and can be ridden or driven while being goaded on with whip or rein, says the Kentucky Stock-Farm.

Now, while for a time this may be very appropriate, yet we can teach very many other things that are indispensable to a well broken horse as the first few lessons given him. A horse should be made familiar with every duty he is expected to perform. There is no easier way to do this than to harmonize your action by word and speech of a confiding nature. It is surprising how quick they will become familiar with what is required of them, and readily obey with an act of appreciation, that seemingly would only be possible from man himself.

When horses become familiar with the voice of their owner or master, coupled with the call of their own names given them, and which they will readily learn to answer to, there is but little use of unnecessary trouble to get them to do as they wish. To-day I hitched a pair of strong young geldings to a mower, that had done but little work at anything, and after the first two or three rounds it was surprising to see how soon they obeyed my voice. I might say here that I have always used a few words in a certain way, which distinctly mean just what I want a horse to do, especially in plowing, reaping or mowing.

For, as every farmer knows, we have to make accurate turning at all such labor, if done anything like it should be, and it should be made as easy as can be, both for ourselves and teams. In making turns, which should always be on the square, I teach my team to keep a steady gait straight out until spoken to to stop. By speaking distinctly the usual call "whoa" they will halt at once; when I call out "back haw" "back gee" just as the turn may be, they will make a square and easy turn every time. The horse to the turning side will fall back one step, while the other will step around. If at any time I need to make a gradual turning, or change the course of my team a little, they will do so at the command of "haw" or "gee".

In working horses single or double it is well to teach them to go by word and in some cases of emergencies much might be gained by it.
Two years ago, just during our hay harvest, I met with an accident that made both my hands and wrists useless for a time, so much that I couldn't hold up the weight of a line; but as I had a span of mares broken well to go by word, I would have the lines fastened to the seat of the mower and go round without the use of lines at all.

A few of Eskiminzin's Indians re-appeared along the San Pedro last week, and among them there is one against whom an indictment is pending. They are probably on a still hunt for a supply of horses and cattle belonging to the settlers. —[Florence Enterprise.
